Business Continuity

When your business' Internet service fails on earth, you can count on what we have in space.

Few businesses consider the risks of having only a landline-based Internet service provider (ISP). But if they were aware that a simple water main break, routine road construction or a natural disaster can accidentally damage or disconnect a landline, most would seek to protect their business with a less vulnerable Internet connection. Fortunately, there's "your name here", the best and most reliable backup Internet solution for business continuity.

VSAT from "your name here" is like "Internet insurance" for your business.

Today's businesses are protecting themselves against the vulnerability of landlines with satellite Internet from "your name here". Our VSAT systems are high-speed (up to 5.5 megabits per second), reliable, cost-effective, secure and always available. Here are just some of the solutions we offer:

- Optimize your system for VoIP
- Help you set up a VPN
- Create a secure, private network with VLANs that restrict how the connection can be used
- Connect your VLAN to a corporate-based VPN or a dedicated line back to your corporate data center

There isn't a more comprehensive system for your business needs than "your name here". And there's no other satellite company as dedicated to fulfilling them.

Business-grade equipment designed specifically for business continuity.

Unlike other broadband satellite providers, every piece of "your name here" equipment is made for business use, from the teleports at our facility to the VSAT dish and indoor modem at your location. Plus, we offer flexible, affordable service options from $59–$99 per month. Compared to the profits your business could lose in the event of a communication disruption, the peace of mind "your name here" provides is priceless.

Key benefits of a "your name here" VSAT system:

- Seamless Internet backup when landline fails
- Committed Information Rate (CIR) guarantees speed
- All business-grade equipment
- Fully customizable
- Service options to fit your budget
- 24/7 in-house tech support
